There was not a fan in Richmond last night that was not disgruntled over the fact that the weather postponed the second game between Richmond and Norfolk on the latter's grounds yesterday. There seemed to be a pretty general feeling around town that the Lawmakers were going to win, and everybody was anxious to hear the results. The poor telephone operators—how they did work! And they got no thanks from the disappointed baseball fanatics when the word was passed: "No game to-day; rain."

As the weather killed the Lynchburg-Portsmouth game also, the only club to profit yesterday was Danville, which gave poor Roanoke another heartless kick toward the back exit. "Pop" Shaffer will have to get a hustle if he wants to keep up with the fast company this season.

Loyal supporters of the Lawmakers will be glad to hear that Kanzler and Heffron, who were left at home on the hospital list, are quickly getting into shape again, and will be in trim for the game here Thursday with Portsmouth. Their return will materially strengthen the team.

Lips' squad came home Thursday morning. Strader, whom it was found necessary to take to Norfolk, showed up to advantage with the willow Monday, getting the only three-bagger of the game. He will have no trouble getting on with some other team in the league. Lips' fielding was of such a character in this game that he drew warm applause from the Norfolk fans. The last melee of the first series with Norfolk will be played to-day, weather permitting.

WALSH PITCHES FAULTLESS BALL

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
DANVILLE, VA., May 5.—Roanoke could not touch Walsh, while Staley was wild and ineffective, and was poorly supported in to-day's game, which resulted: Danville, 11; Roanoke, 2. All four of the visitors' errors proved costly, coming when men were on bases. Walsh fanned eleven of the opposing batsmen and allowed only two hits, both of which were secured by pitcher and coach of which were scabbers. Henn knocked the first home run of the season, putting the ball over the fence in the fourth inning. The score:

SPIDERS TROUNCE RANDOLPH-MACON

Richmond College defeated Randolph-Macon, 5 to 2, yesterday afternoon at Broad Street Park on a wet and slow diamond. This is the second time the Spiders have defeated the Yellow Jackets this season, and gives Richmond College the series of championship games against Randolph-Macon. Should the local college boys defeat Hampden-Sidney this afternoon the championship race in Eastern Virginia will be a tie between Richmond College, William and Mary and Randolph-Macon, each of the teams having won two games and lost one.

The game yesterday, in spite of the wet ground and lowering clouds, was well played and won by the better playing of the Spiders. Richmond hit when hits were needed, and gave their pitcher the better support. Denny Wright was in the box and pitched possibly the best game he has worked in this year. He succeeded in causing twelve of the opposing batsmen to fan the air, and was responsible for the first run scored by his team, hitting out a not two-bagger in the third inning with two men on base.
Captain Gardner's beautiful catch of Lancaster's hard line drive in the ninth inning possibly saved the game from resulting in a tie, for there was a man on second and third, and Gardner caught and made it possible to tie the score before the side was retired. He came in hard and took the ball close behind the shortstop, which kept the side out.

The Spiders met Hampden-Sidney this afternoon and leave for Washington tomorrow to meet the strong Catholic University team, and return Monday to play Randolph-Macon at Broad Street Park. Should they win this game they will reach William and Mary at Broad Street Wednesday, and close their season at Petersburg on Saturday.

TO RACE CARS UNDER LOCAL CLUB AUSPICES
At a meeting of the Richmond Automobile Club, at the Park Hotel, called for the purpose of discussing plans for the coming motor races at the Fair Grounds, it was decided to hold the election of the auspices of the local organization, rather than the Automobile Association of America.

This change in the original plan is due to the delay that would be necessary before the races could be held under the American Association auspices. The date has been fixed for May 23d, following close on the heels of the Deep Run Horse Show; and as it is thought inadvisable to put off the races a month later, which would be necessary to receive national sanction, the club will go ahead and race independently of motor enthusiasts.

Dr. W. H. Bassett, who has charge of the entry list, has been assured by many owners of fast cars that they intend to participate in the races.
SPIDERS' ELECTION
